Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT jobbers, manufacturers and retailers owe a duty to the public.
THAT some of them forget it.
THAT some of them should realize that duty consists of advertising.
THAT the public is entitled to know about their wares.
THAT the directing heads of business concerns should also realize that they owe a duty to their business.
THAT advertising will insure bigger profits for a business.
THAT it will increase turnover.
THAT it will move dead stocks.
THAT it will put their business before the public.
THAT it will create demand.
THAT it will make a prosperous business.
THAT ads are read by every family.
THAT they are fascinating.
THAT they are convincing.

1924 Makes Record As Brilliant Year In Sports

great French thoroughbred, in three successive special races.
New champions arose in many events, but the year was notable for the number of titleholders keeping their places at the top. Three champions ruled their respective fields for the fifth straight season when the United States defended the Davis Cup, William T. Tilden retained his national tennis crown against all comers, and when Rogers Hornsby led all National League batters with a record-modern average.
The finish of the world's series, with Johnson pitching the Senators to victory over the New York Giant in a thrilling comeback before a wildly demonstrative crowd that included the President of the United States, has never been equaled in diamond annals for thrilling suspense and spectacular climax.
Just prior to the series, in which the nation's capital figured for the first time, the baseball world had been thrown into a turmoil by sensational charges of attempted bribery which resulted in the banishment of two members of the Giants, Cozy Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell.
The baseball season also was notable for the sensational pitching feats of Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn star and former castoff, who led all major league moundsmen in victories and strikeouts and was awarded the "National League's most valuable player" title. Pitchers monopolized these awards, as Johnson received similar honors in the American League.
Boxing, the only sport which failed to equal or surpass previous standards of competition, was notable chiefly for the defeat of Luis Firpo by Harry Wills and the South American's rapid decline.

THE OLD HOME TOWN BY STANLEY

THE DAYS THAT ARE TO BE

By NORMAN JOHNSON

On New Year's morning when we see the dawning of the days to be, And realize that we are starting out to face anew The joys and sorrows of the day we needs must meet upon our way We think of things we've left undone and things we ought to do.
And on this day we're gratified when thinking, with a certain pride About the worthwhile things we've done since the last year was born: Perhaps not overmuch, but then it makes us feel encouraged when We know that we at least have tried and helped to "carry on."
As one who wanders on and on, recalls the places he has gone And ponders at the cross-roads there which path he next should try. So do we pause and long to know the wisest way for us to go, The road that to success will lead and pass all pitfalls by.
The days that are to be many hold for us great happiness untold, Our clouds may all be silver-lined, our joys unbounded be, But, on the other hand, there may be obstacles to block our way: Success may seldom enter in the lives of you and me.
No matter, though, what be our lot, if it spells Happiness or not, May we keep trying every day and never fall behind: Let us in doing what is right, although our burden be not light, Continue seeking brighter days that we in time must find.

"Bob" Brown Dies In San Diego

Kentuckians who remember "Bob" Brown, former managing editor of the Louisville Times, will regret to hear of his death in San Diego, Calif., last Sunday. In an editorial made public before his death, Frankfort State Journal recalls his popularity in Louisville. The State Journal says:
"Robert W. Brown, a former Louisville newspaperman, now so ill in San Diego that his death is expected at any moment, was one of the most widely popular Louisville newspapermen twenty-five years ago.
"Mr. Brown was a smiling, breezy, type of man who mixed freely and made friends in almost every walk of life. He was an enthusiastic Elk in those days, and afterward became the Grand Exalted Ruler and was called to the chair of the editor of the official Elks magazine in New York because of his great popularity with the order.
"Bob" Brown was well known to the newspaper men of the state who were in harness when he was managing editor of the Louisville Times. He was well liked and there remain a good many Kentuckians outsid of journalism, who knew him well. Within the newspaper colony there are only a few who were of Mr. Brown's day. Those who were of his day recall him kindly and regret that illness, apparently incurable, claimed him when he should have had many years of life and work before him."

"Let Us Here Highly Resolve—"

When the New Year knocks on the door and begins to wipe his feet on the threshold of 1925, let us get out our think-tank, clean her up, adjust the carburetor, put in a new supply of sparkplugs and gas, then shove her onto high speed and proceed to make a few New Year's Resolutions.
For instance, let us resolve:
To be good.
To be decent.
To be kind and considerate.
To be true to ourselves.
To be square with others.
To earn more and spend less.
To talk less and think more.
To crowd less and give the ladies a seat.
To improve business.
To be a loyal citizen.
To be the right kind of thing we are—whether it's husband, father, or son.
To do everything else that we ought to do which hasn't already been mentioned.
And then let us pack all these resolutions in moth balls, stow them away up in the attic, and forget all about them, as usual—and GET TO WORK.—The Office Cat.

News from dear old London Cop is slinging in Grand Opera. If we were a cop we would do dangerous things like that.
What's become of the oldbachelor who used to call a crying baby a lap organ?
Missing Texas man wired he is in jail in Mexico, showing there was no cause to worry about him.
Time is so contrary. If you ask it to go slow it speeds up and if you ask it to speed it goes slow.
This is the first editorial paragraph we have ever seen which said it was all right for women to use rouge.
Bryan gets his name in our paper so seldom now we just decided to put it in here like this.

Too many people seem to wish they were someone else.

Glad Sister Escaped Operation

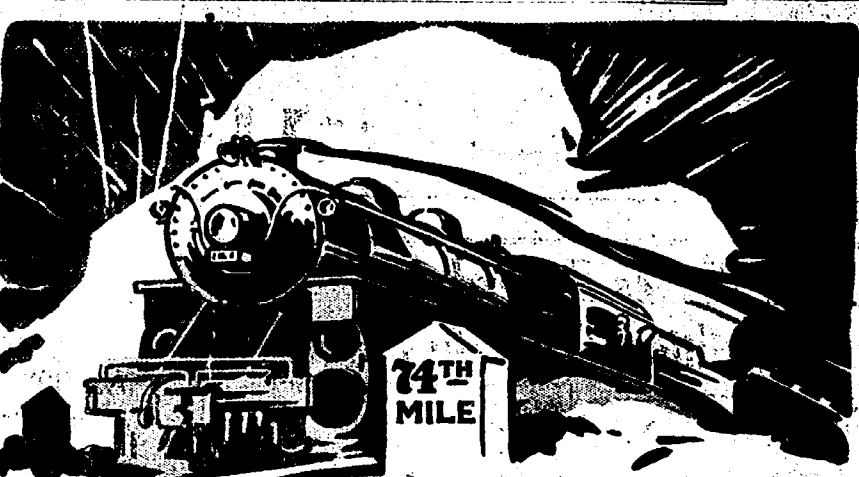

"Physicians had given my sister up to die, they wanted to operate for gall stones, but she was too weak and could only talk in whispers. I got her a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and in 3 weeks she was able to get about and walked a mile to church." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At Lee's and all druggists everywhere.

Have You a Bad Back?

Then the Advice of a Resident of This Locality Will Interest You.

Does your back ache night and day? Hinder work; destroy your rest? Are you tortured with stabbing pains? When you stoop, lift or bend? Then likely your kidneys are weak. More troubles may soon appear. Headaches, dizziness, nervousness, or uric acid and its ills. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic.
Use Doan's Pills.
W. S. Turner, carpenter, Shamrock, Ky., says: "Grippe settled in my kidneys and made me feel right bad. The dull backache got worse right along and sharp, knife-like pains darted across my kidneys when I stooped over to lift anything."
I heard about Doan's Pills and got some some at Yeaman's Drug Store. After using them, the backache was driven away and I haven't been bothered since."

BIG STONE GAP—"TERRIBLE"
Bentley, who has been in jail at Wise, Va., the county seat, since the first of June for killing his wife, was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary as the result of a compromise between the state and Bentley's attorneys.
Bentley shot his wife in the street on May 31 following a hot quarrel. She died in the hospital at Norton, Va., six weeks later.

Passing Its 74th Mile Stone

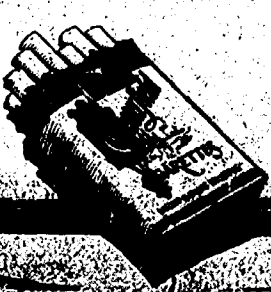

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad enters the year of 1925, proud of its accomplishments during each of the 74 years of its corporate existence and with a renewed pledge of continued service to the public.
Among the physical improvements recently authorized and now nearing completion, are the construction of 105 miles of double track costing nearly ten million dollars, the rebuilding of numerous bridges costing approximately six million, the installation of automatic signals and automatic train control costing over a million dollars and the acquisition of a large amount of additional power (engines) and freight and passenger equipment.
In addition to these amounts already authorized, an additional sum of nearly ten million dollars has been appropriated for new rails, double track work, added equipment and other improvements which will bring the 1925 expenditures already authorized up to practically $22,000,000.
In each of the 74 years of its existence this road has striven honestly and effectively to render a superior freight and passenger service to the territory it traverses. That it has succeeded, is evidenced by the fact that people everywhere call it "The Old Reliable."

The "Jugs" being on at irregular intervals this morning caused considerable annoyance in the homes and also among business houses. Patrons at the Busy Bee Cafe were eating ham sandwiches instead of the customary waffles as the waffle iron refused to heat without the necessary electricity and the elevator at the Cumberland stopped midway between floors delaying passengers who were enroute to trains. A reporter spent several minutes between the lobby and the first floor engaged in the elevator with other passenger when it refused to move.

Mr. R. H. Barr and wife of Detroit, Michigan, are stopping at the Bruce Hotel enroute to Florida.

People who are accustomed to drive over Cumberland Mountain report that the fog last night was so dense as to make travel dangerous. "In fact," said one veteran driver, "it was the worst I have ever seen it."

Mrs. T. H. Ball of Shawnee, will be the guest of Wheeler Woodson tomorrow.

"THIS IS NO JOKE"
